

JOURNAL OF MODERN PERIODICAL STUDIES

PATRICK COLLIER AND BARBARA GREEN, EDITORS

The Journal of Modern Periodical Studies is a peer-reviewed scholarly journal devoted to the academic study of modern periodicals—by which we mean periodicals published roughly in the period from 1880 to 1950, whether they are aggressively modernist or anti-modernist, popular or elite, mass circulation or specialized, long-lasting or brief. Daily newspapers, weeklies, monthlies, quarterlies, and irregularly published little magazines are all part of the field covered by this journal. The journal publishes full-length articles, shorter notes and comments, bibliographies, biographical essays, reviews of books, digital projects, research archives, and other such significant scholarly resources.

Submissions:

All manuscripts must be submitted electronically at www.editorialmanager.com/JMPS. Authors should submit article manuscripts (of 6,000-8,000 words), note manuscripts (up to 4,000 words), or review manuscripts (up to 2,000 words) styled according to the Chicago Manual of Style. All visual images should be TIFF, EPS, or JPEG files, scanned at 300 dpi or greater resolution to a size appropriate for a journal page. The Review Editor, Catherine Keyser, should be consulted before submitting a review or review essay. Reviewers may consider not only books, but also exhibitions, digital sites, editions, and other materials of direct interest to the journal's primary field of interest. The author is responsible for obtaining all necessary copyright permissions and paying any requisite fees the use of any visual or textual materials used in his or her submission.
